8 Steps to Get Found by Generative AIs

Marcos Luciano · AI Lead & AI Search Specialist @ V4 Company

❑ Step 1: Extractable Headings

Are your headings (H2, H3) clear questions or topics that an AI can extract as standalone answers?

- ✓ H2 describe the main topic of each section
- ✓ H3 are specific questions or subtopics
- ✓ Each heading works as an independent answer

❑ Step 2: Optimized Paragraphs

Do your paragraphs have 2-4 sentences and work as standalone answers for RAG extraction?

- ✓ Short paragraphs (2-4 sentences each)
- ✓ First sentence directly answers the question
- ✓ Following sentences provide context

❑ Step 3: Lists and Definitions

Did you include lists and explicit definitions that AIs love to cite?

- ✓ Ordered and unordered lists for structured info
- ✓ Definitions in "X is Y that does Z" format
- ✓ Technical terms defined within the sentence

☐ Step 4: FAQ Schema Implemented

Did you implement JSON-LD with FAQ Schema in the article?

- ✓ FAQ Schema with complete questions and answers
- ✓ Real questions from your audience (AnswerThePublic, Reddit, PAA)
- ✓ Complete answers (not just "see more")

☐ Step 5: Updated Content

Does your content have a recent update date (last 6 months)?

- ✓ Last modified date visible in the article
- ✓ Content reviewed within the last 6 months
- ✓ References to current data and events

☐ Step 6: Primary Sources Cited

Do you cite primary sources and verifiable data?

- ✓ Studies, papers, and official data cited
- ✓ Links to original sources
- ✓ Numerical data with clear attribution

□ Step 7: Multi-Platform Presence

Is your brand present on multiple platforms that AIs index?

- ✓ LinkedIn with complete profile and activity
- ✓ Medium, Substack, or Hashnode with articles
- ✓ GitHub with relevant projects
- ✓ Wikipedia (if applicable)

□ Step 8: Active Monitoring

Do you regularly monitor your presence in AI responses?

- ✓ Test in ChatGPT: does your brand appear?
- ✓ Test in Perplexity: is your brand cited?
- ✓ Test in Google AI Overviews: is your brand there?
- ✓ Metric: Share of AI Voice vs competitors
